Dr. M. Davamani Christofer, Principal & Secretary, was in the chair.

The meeting began with prayer by Chaplain Rev. Dr. S. Joseph Wellington.

The Principal welcomed all the members of the Academic Council on behalf of the college and extended a special word of welcome to the external members who represented the various constituents. They were Dr. K. Kudalingam, Joint Director of Collegiate Education, Madurai Region, Madurai, Mr. I. K. Lenin Tamilkovan, Director-in-charge, Anna Science Centre Planetarium, Trichy, and Prof. Ram Rajasekaran, Director, CFTRI, Mysuru.

He welcomed Vice-Principal, Bursar, Deans, Additional Deans, Controller and Deputy Controller, Heads, Coordinators, and Directors of Academic Departments, Members of the faculty. He specially welcomed the student representatives who helped as student-members in the Boards of Studies to shape the curricula.

He introduced the external members to the House and their contribution to the growth and development of the college. He acknowledged the role played by Prof Ram Rajasekaran in establishing the department of Food Science and by Mr I.K. Lenin Tamilkovan in our attempt to establish a planetarium. He also informed the House that he received apologies from the university nominee Dr. M. Hussain Manavar and the external member Dr Arunai Wilson from Loma Linda University, US for their inability to attend the meeting.

He then drew the attention of the House to the fact that each proposal was wetted at four levels, namely the department, department meetings, Board of Studies, the Senatus, and the Faculty meeting. He therefore requested the faculty members of the House to first offer space for the External members to make observations and suggestions. However, he encouraged all the members of the House to scrutinize the proposals from other departments and offer their valuable suggestions. Since all resolutions and descriptive and descriptive syllabi are shown on the screen, members were requested to refer to course code and title while making suggestions or raising queries.

To a query from Dr A. He also said that the College was awaiting the University Affiliation Commission to visit the campus for the sanction of BA English at the Satellite Campus. He read out the university order permitting the college to start these courses. He also requested the members to verify the records at the offices before raising an issue on the floor so that members may not be given a bad impression about the college.

SPECIAL RESOLUTION

R.38: RESOLVED to accept the recommendations of the Sub-Committee on Examination Reforms as presented in the Addendum with effect from the academic year 2017-2018.

Resolution introduced by Mr. J. Jesupaul Thangaraj and seconded by Dr. A. Martin David.

Dr M.G. Rethan questioned the very composition of the sub-committee on the ground that there was no representation for women though half of the faculty were women, that the colleges visited were Christian colleges, that it should have been formed with student representatives, and that the heads alone had been included.

Dr. M. Rajendra Pandian claimed that the members had no time to go through the recommendations of the sub-committee since they were given only two days. He said that the reform recommendations should be discussed threadbare at the faculty level because the concept of autonomy evolved only from the faculty floor in the American college in the 1970s. He observed that while trust was the basis of academic autonomy which provides space for experiments and innovations in terms of curriculum designing, teaching, and testing, some of the recommendations were against the spirit of autonomy. Hence, members required time for reflection and discussion before taking decisions.

Mr S. Stephen said that as the syllabus was wetted at four different forums, the reforms that were discussed inconclusively should also be discussed at four levels. He claimed that the faculty members were not averse to reforms but they needed more time. Some of the recommendations like scrapping of the June Repeat and fixing minimum internal marks as a condition to sit for EOS were quite contentious. It showed the 'matriculation mentality. He asked for a through overhauling of the examination system and not a piecemeal one.

Dr. M. DAVAMANI CHRISTOBER

The American College
Madurai-625 002

Dr. S. Rajkumar Immanuel claimed that as the Head of the Criterion II of NAAC he conducted a student feedback but to his shock students across the thirty seven departments had poorly graded on evaluation and testing system in the college.

Dr. A. Gunamalai said that he was for change and claimed that there can be discussion but not argument in the House. While he felt nothing wrong in the composition of the committee, he said the fixing of minimum marks in internal need not be introduced.

Dr. G.C. Abraham claimed that external accrediting agencies like NAAC and regulating authorities like UGC see less role for the external examiners and more role for the internal examiners and that they wanted the externals to play a significant role in maintaining standards of academic autonomy. He said that the resolution before the House did not have the Part I of the recommendations since it was delinked in the Deans' meeting held the previous day.

Dr. A. Robson Benjamin claimed that there was no need for reform because the system was excellent. He observed that implementation was not uniform and proper. He supported the reforms in the senatus because he thought that reforms meant writing the rules explicitly. He suggested that the formation of Question Paper Scrutiny Board since it was not literally possible for the heads to know the syllabi of different courses and it would dilute secrecy. He also asked for the active role of Evaluation Monitoring Cell and its decisions be brought to the Academic Council for approval.

The Chairperson at this juncture clarified certain issues. The composition of the subcommittee was initiated in the senatus on voluntary basis. He replied to Mr Stephen that four-tier level discussion took place on reforms as well. They were discussed in the sub-committee, deans' meeting, senatus, and the faculty. He informed the House that more than 70% of the faculty supported the reform efforts.

Dr K. Navaneetha Kannan pleaded that women representatives be included in all committees in the future and justified the fixing of minimum in the internal since it is the only way to make students serious about examinations. He observed that the present pass percentage was pathetic.

Dr. M. DAVAMANI CHRISTOBER
Principal & Secretary
The American College
Madurai-625 002

Dr. S. Premsingh asked for a thorough analysis of the drawbacks of the present system which was really good but poor implementation had led to certain problems. He wanted the reforms to be foolproof. He cautioned that reforms should not be poorer than the present system since externals appreciated our system.

Dr. R. Prabhar Vedamanickam said that change was most urgent but it was a very serious exercise. He attributed the large classroom, admission policy and faculty recruitment policy to poor performance of students in examinations. He cautioned that the faculty should go slow by taking more time for decision-making on examination-related issues. Reforms required debates and not votes. He said that essence of autonomy was freedom and uniformity was the opposite of autonomy.

Dr. J. Paul Jayakar claimed that it was quite natural for human beings to resist change and that there were certain issues that merited discussion. He said he learnt quite a lot from seniors while sharing a course from teaching to setting question papers and to testing. He claimed that the recommendations of the subcommittee were very close to the recommendations of the UGC.

Mr. Justin Manohar claimed that it would be better to discuss the recommendations item-wise instead of rejecting them on the ground that they required time for discussion and decision. He shared with the House that the subcommittee revised the report at least ten times in several sittings of the subcommittee.

Dr Albert Christopher Doss said that he was for reforms but each recommendation should have been discussed first at the department level and then at the senatus. In his view, Question Paper Scrutiny Board was a big problem.

Mr. M. Rajesh welcomed the proposal to include the external examiner for lab courses.

Dr S. Stalin Kumar said that reforms were good but required clarification. He expressed concern over the scrapping of June Repeat exams, non-availability of blueprint for setting question papers, no provision for students who would represent the college in sports and cultural as far as retest was concerned.

Mr. J. John Kamaraj said that he could see a contradiction between reform recommendations, namely reduction of retest to one and fixing minimum in the internals as a condition to sit for EOS. He expressed that such

Dr. M. DAVAMANI CHRISTOBER
Principal & Secretary
The American College
Madurai-625 002

recommendations would create psychological problems in students and therefore he pleaded for the retention of the existing system.

Dr. A.D. Barnabas wanted more time for discussion of the recommendations item-wise at the departmental meetings and at the faculty level. He said he was for reforms.

Dr. R. Anadaraj justified the selection of colleges for visit on the ground that these colleges had introduced several innovations under autonomy and they were rated higher by accrediting agencies. Moreover, he said that colleges had to learn from one another.

Dr. K. John Adaikalasamy clarified that the recommendations did not amount to changing the system but to introducing checks and balances. For instance, he referred to the setting of question papers separately with the help of blueprints for each course.

Dr. K. Gnanasekar justified the reform efforts on the ground that recommendations were seen only as amendments to the existing system, as measures to make the system more functional, and the colleges visited had been nationally ranked higher.

Dr K. Kudalingam, RJDCE reminded the members that autonomy was meant for the development of students' competencies at the micro-level and it could be done with the help of experts. However, we should not deviate from the directions from the university and the UGC. He suggested that brainstorming sessions be conducted on all issues ranging from framing syllabus to teaching techniques, testing and evaluation at the department level first. Teachers should not forget that students were the focal point and they should be made more competence in the competitive world.

Prof Ram Rajasekaran, Director, CFTRI, Mysuru said that he was happy that all teachers wanted change in the system. He cautioned that there could be mistakes in experiments since we were not sure of outcomes. He suggested to the teachers to refrain from making references to the years of experience but to bringing facts and figures to support their claim. He advised the faculty to quantify the outcome while he appreciated the faculty commitment for change and reforms. He asked the faculty to evolve innovative ways of teaching.

Dr. M. DAVAMANI CHRISTOBER
Principal & Secretary
The American College
Madurai-625 002

Mr Lenin Tamilkovan wanted the reforms to be standardized. He reiterated his commitment to help the college to establish a planetarium and an Innovative Centre.

Dr. J. John Sekar, Dean for Policies and Administration, summed up the discussions by observing that responsiveness was the American college culture. He informed the House that the principal asked the subcommittee in the Deans' meeting held the previous day to de-link the first section that was on administrative issue from the rest of the report that was on examination reforms. He claimed that there were three contentious issues that the faculty was worried about though they were all for change and reforms. They were scrutiny board, denying students the chances to sit for the June Repeat exam, and fixing minimum in the internals. He suggested to the Chairperson that the resolution could be passed now on the condition that additional suggestions from the faculty could be discussed at the appropriate forums and be incorporated into the reform process.

The Chairperson assured the House that additional suggestions would be incorporated before the recommendations were implemented.

With this assurance, the resolution was unanimously passed.

Any other matter

Mr. S. Stephen of Mathematics Department demanded an explanation why the consolidated internal marks sheets were not displayed on the department notice board as promised for cross-reference and check. He also claimed that there were a number of spelling mistakes in students' names on their marks sheets and wrong entry of marks as well.

He also wanted to know who fixes the examination fees and why an exorbitant amount under 'other charges' fixed.

Dr A. Martin David, Deputy Controller, assured the House that the COE personnel would handover the consolidated internal mark sheets at the end of the meeting. He cited some software problem for the delay.

Dr. J. Helen Ratna Monica replied to Mr Stephen that money was needed for developing software for scrutinizing marks and for employing non-teaching staff for examination duty. She shared with the House that as many 600+ students could not pay the college fees. She suggested that each faculty member could adopt one student for the payment of college fees. She also informed the House that the NAAC peer team and the Autonomy Review Committee appreciated the fees collection and maintaining of the records at the Bursar's office.

Dr. M. DAVAMANI CHRISTOBER
Principal & Secretary
The American College

Dr Robson Benjamin said that the CBCS marks should not be taken into account for computing percentage in the majoring discipline. The Chairperson ruled that it could be first discussed at the senatus. The chairperson also requested Dr S. Premsingh and Dr Robson Benjamin to provide more details on complaints regarding marks and hall tickets so that the administration could rectify them.

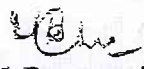

Vote of Thanks

Vice-Principal Dr. G.C. Abraham thanked the Principal and all the external members for their presence, support and their valuable suggestions and also placed on record appreciations for Dean Dr. J. John Sekar and Additional Dean Dr. J. Paul Jayakar and the other Deans and Additional Deans for taking up the responsibilities to scrutinize all the proposals presented in the House. He also thanked all the Heads of the Departments, faculty members and student members for their contribution and cooperation. He also thanked the Bursar for the financial sanction to accomplish this mammoth academic exercise.

Dear Dr. Davamani,

It was a pleasure to talk to you on Monday.

As I mentioned to you during our telephone conversation, Mr. Eric Lund, who is the Educational, Exchanges and Cultural Affairs Officer in the U.S. Consulate General Chennai and I are visiting Madurai on Friday, October 14 on work.

We would like to visit American College around 3:30 p.m. or 4:00 p.m. to pay a courtesy call on you and also for an interaction with the students. I am pasting below a short bio of Mr. Lund for your reference:

ERIC LUND, a Foreign Service Officer at the U.S. Department of State, Washington D.C. is currently serving as the Educational, Exchanges and Cultural Affairs Officer in Chennai, India covering Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and Kerala. Previously, he served as the spokesperson for the U.S. State Department's Bureau of International Security and Nonproliferation (ISN). In that capacity he engaged the press on a wide range of issues including the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action (a.k.a. the Iran deal), the removal of declared chemical weapons from Syria, North Korea's development of its nuclear weapons program, the Nuclear Summit series and civil nuclear cooperation. Prior to becoming ISN's spokesperson he worked as an action officer for the bureau's office of Cooperative Threat Reduction. While there he assisted in the effort to dismantle Libya's nuclear program, counter the development of Iran's ballistic missile technology and redirect scientists with weapons of mass destruction skills to peaceful application in the former Soviet Union countries. He has served as an Immigrant Visa Chief and done consular work in Moscow and filled in for staffing gaps in Kyiv and Tashkent. Mr. Lund holds an M.A. in International Relations with an emphasis on Russian studies from American University and a Bachelors of Integrated Studies from Weber State University. Before joining the Department of State he worked as a broadcast journalist for ESPN and CBS Sports.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Dear Principal:

Greetings from the American Consulate General, Chennai.

This is further to our telephone conversation this morning with you and Mr. John Adaikalasamy. As discussed, our Chief of Consular Services Mr. Kent May is visiting Madurai on 17th September 2018. We would like to take this opportunity to schedule a session for the students at the American College. We would like to speak to the students about higher education opportunities in the United States and to demystify the visa process. Topics of our discussion would include the higher educational opportunities in the United States and the process for obtaining a student visa to the United States. This session would benefit students who plan to go in for higher studies to the United States.

We would like to conduct this session in your college on Monday, September 17, 2018 @ 2.30 p.m. This session would be a presentation for 30 minutes followed by Q&A session. This would be a wonderful opportunity for the students to look at higher education options in the United States and get their queries answered.

As requested by you, Mr. Kent May will be pleased to take this opportunity to dedicate your "Central Instrumentation" building after the above event.

Please confirm and also let us know the address and route to your college.

Regards,

Vidhya Nanthakumar

Dear Ms. Vidhya Nanthakumar

Thanks for your mail. As per our telephonic conversation, we will start the program on Monday 17th September at 3.00pm instead of 2.30pm. The dedication of Central Instrumentation center will be at 4.00pm. Nearly 100 students along with few faculty will participate. Hall arrangement and other facilities will be taken care of. Please let me know your travel itinerary. That will help us to plan further.
